Imagine young people all over Tulsa receiving stipends from their neighbors to clean up their own neighborhoods and to help senior citizens. Cooperative economics is one of the vital solutions for our community today. This simple, yet powerful, effort requires each of our neighborhood organizations to work in concert with EYT, the City of Tulsa and the neighborhood watch programs. Every neighborhood is to list the young people in their community, ages 10-20 yrs old as well as Senior Citizens age 65 and greater. Small donations from members of each neighborhood will be used to provide stipends for our youth in our own communities. Youth will assist with cutting lawns of vacant homes and of the elderly, painting numbers on curbs, raking leaves, picking up limbs and trash, and many other tasks as designated and prioritized by EYT and the neighborhood associations. Please join us in this effort to Empower the Youth of Tulsa!
